Mrs. Edith Eypner wishes to make the following announcement. Mrs. Fred L. Keeler, the field consultant of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will be in Maine the third week of April and is scheduled to speak in each of the fourteen districts of our state at this time.

Mrs. Keeler will speak at the District No. 4 meeting to be held on April 28th in South Paris. The time and place to be announced later. Mark this date on your calendar please!

RED CROSS DRIVE TO START NEXT WEEK

As has already been announced through the mediums of television, radio and the press, the Annual Red Cross Drive for 1961 has been launched following the nation-wide word of approval by President John F. Kennedy two weeks ago.

The material has been received by your local chairman, the Rev'd Clifford W. Laws and the district canvassers will be ready for the house to house visit for your contribution.

The contributions you make, only go in part, to the general disaster and relief fund. A sizeable portion remains in our local area and is used in our local communities for services of importance to all citizens. Your local Chapter assists where there is loss by fire, along with the help of the Bethel Area Health Council.

In the area of more personal services, your local Home Service Chairman is called on many times, and often late at night, to effect the return of men in our Armed Services who may be needed at home in cases of emergency.

A program of outstanding significance and local worth, that your contributions help to finance is the Swimming and Life Saving courses given to our young children each summer during these past several years.

Also attending the meeting were Maine Forest Service foresters Wayne Jackson, South Paris, Walter Gooley, Norway and Toppin Kimball, Cornish. The foresters reported that some 160 acres of woodland improvement has been done recently. This includes harvest cutting, pruning and thinning. Listed among land owners doing woodland improvement are: Clarence Morton, Ed Travis Harold Shaw Sr., Lawrence Brown, South Paris; Richard Parsons, John Pike, Warren Harriman, Norway; Basil Henley, Ed Packard, Harvey Kimball, Waterford, and Raymond Buck Bethel.

SCHOOL NEWS

A reading achievement test was recently given in grades four and six at the Crescent Park School. The test which will be repeated at the end of the school year was given to help determine each pupils reading level and to provide information for evaluation of the new Reading Laboratory program begun last week.

The grade four average score in terms of grade equivalent was 4.5. This means that the class reading level average represents four years and five months of reading achievement as measured by the test. Individual fourth grader scores ranged from a low of 2.0 to a high of 10.5.

Sixth grade average reading level in the test was 6.5 in terms of grade equivalent. Individual scores ranged from 2.3 to 16.3. The range of scores which indicate vast differences in individual ability mean that some sixth graders are able to read only at the second grade level while others are able to read at high school or above levels.

A frequent question when such wide ranges of ability are known asks, "How can pupils with such varying ability be taught in a single classroom?"

In part, Bethel provides for these individual differences by grouping pupils for reading instruction and offering a special reading program (temporarily suspended) for slow readers. However, the test results also indicate a significant number of pupils with above average reading ability. For these pupils no special reading program is provided; other than for the aid given them under the recently added Reading Laboratory Program.

A possible solution to the need to provide additional instruction and why it should be provided will be published at a later date.

Principal Charles Heino attended a Gun Safety Conference at Hallowell on Monday. Featured speaker at the conference was Stanley Mate of Washington, D. C., who is a field representative of the National Rifle Association (NRA). The purpose of the conference was to certify instructors in gun safety.

Mr. Mate pointed out that six states now require a gun safety course before a hunting license can be issued. Next fall Principal Heino will use the safety techniques learned at the conference in the rifle instruction program at the Crescent Park School. Six lessons in gun safety will be given.

The Bethel School Committee met at Crescent Park School last Friday evening. Richard Thompson was welcomed as a newly elected member of the School Committee, and Mr. Stanley Davis was elected chairman for the coming year. During the lengthy session the committee voted: to rescind its previous leave of absence granted to Charles Heino because of the state requirement that such a leave can be granted only after seven years of service; to provide a helper for the Junior Primary teacher during the overcrowded morning session; to permit use of a school building for a band instruction program next summer on a tuition basis; not to offer a summer program in developmental reading and arithmetic because of lack of funds; to have a telephone installed at the East Bethel School, and at a later date to undertake requested building improvements; set the 1961-62 Bethel tuition rate at $225.00. The committee also reviewed overdue tuition bills and listened to the report from the superintendent on the possibility of

TRIBUTE TO HENRY W. BOYKER

He never turned a man away Who was in need of bread.
 He saw that rich and poor alike, Were housed, and warmed, and fed.
 He gave his time, his strength, his help
 To those who were in need,
 And many called upon him,
 And found a friend, indeed.
 He had a cheery greeting
 And a smile for everyone.
 He truly loved humanity, He loved for folks to come And talk with him, about the things That troubled them the most.
 He was a generous, thoughtful man
 A most congenial host.

MRS. RUTH B. BONVIE

Mrs. Ruth Buck Bonvie of 104 Walpole Street, Canton, Mass., died at the Roslindale Hospital on Saturday, Sept. 10, 1960, in her 64th year.
 She was born in Bethel, the daughter of Orlando and Leona Buck.
 She is survived by her husband, Ben A. Bonvie; two daughters, Mrs. Janet B. Mc-Elaney of Canton and Mrs.
 Thelma B. Hopper of Omaha, Neb.; a son, Benjamin W. Bon-vie, of Omaha. Also three brothers, Everett and Ernest S.
 Buck, both of Bethel, and Archie Buck of Portland; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys B. Hall of Bethel, and Mrs. Lillian B. Vail of Jiminebeck, N. Y.
 Funeral services were conducted from the Lowe & Powers funeral home, Canton, on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 13, with the Rev. Peter Knost of the First Universalist Church in Canton officiating. Interment was in Knollwood Park Cemetery.
 Bearers were Charles Baris, Laurence Brigham, Paul Sloan, Alfred Riosuff, John Olson, Warren Christie, and Joseph Albertineith.

ed in private, considers itself the master, the citizenry as pawns. The world knows many such governments today. It is the only kind there was on earth for centuries. It could be the only kind again.

This government assumes unto itself all power and responsibility to rule. It acknnowledges no responsibility to those who are ruled, least of all that of accounting to them.
 It conducts its business in private, assured that it knows best.

And so, to us, it is not possible for our country to enjoy the one form of government and tolerate incursions of the other. The two are utterly incompatible. A democracy is the people's government; everything about it is the people's.
 The instant that public servants seek to change this, no matter how small the beginning, there is real danger and they must be resisted.

Admittedly the school committeeman, the town selectman, city councilor, budget committeeman, town manager, who wants to meet in secret has no desire to exchange our system of government for one that is not free. He usually seeks to serve convenience, to spare himself publicity, to serve a sincere belief that more can be accomplished in private. But however innocent his motive he fails to recognize that he champions a departure from the people's government to that of the governors.

Probably he doesn't know that already we in this country have long since gone a long way in this direction. Americans, despite the best efforts of the press, know little more about their national affairs than those in government in Washington feel it is proper for them to know. From the White House on down to the smallest outpost of federal bureaucracy our public servants have taken unto themselves the right to decide what and how much the people should know about what is going on.

Many in state and local governments also have assumed this right. Many more would if the media bearing the responsibility of communicating to the public relented for an instant in its resistance.

This is why you will continue to hear from us when public servants, meaning no harm, seek to conduct the public's business in private.
